

Topics for brainstorming session

1. Environmental ethics and principles

Do we need to change our basic perception of the human-nature relationship?

2. The role of planning

What is the “proper” place of regulation, the free market, and non-regulatory instruments?

3. Legislative design

Should we integrate our legislation more, split it up, or arrange it differently? Why?

4. Institutional design

How should we split up our institutions, and what characteristics should they have?

5. Public participation

When should the public be able to participate in decision-making, and in what ways?

6. Planning and post-planning

What kind of planning should we do, how do we achieve integrated planning, and how do we improve compliance, monitoring, enforcement and evaluation?

Contact Details for Resource Management Law Reform Project

Please send any further comments to:

rmproject@eds.org.nz